"IN THE BISHOP'S CARRIAGE," CROOK PLAY, SCORES SUCCESS

Scene from "In the Bishop's Carriage," crook play that is scoring big success at Ye Liberty theater.

In the good old days the correct place to end the story of one who appropriated the belongings of his fellow was behind steel bars, but the criminal in "In the Bishop's Carriage" was just seen in the arms of the man she loves and who saved her from the bars and her pal in crime who ended his days an exile.

Mary Pickford as Nancy Olden in this motion picture play at Ye Liberty theater portrays a charming little crook, and were it not that her better self triumphs would be a risky example to place before the minds of other girls. No place is sacred to Nancy when she wants to escape her pursuers, consequently she takes her audience into many interesting places and some rather dangerous ones.

The principal character in this motion picture is Nancy and to those who have read the book the only disappointment, and it is but slight, is that she is not shown as giving imitations of the different famous characters. Nancy has brains and that makes her charming because she is so quick to see a way out of a difficulty. When her cleverness was directed into another course she was just as successful as when a confidence woman. In one of her adventures she was caught by the owner of an apartment in which she had taken refuge. This man, a theatrical manager, saved her from the police by having her read from a play in their presence as if she were rehearsing. She made such a favorable impression upon him that he gave her a chance to live a different life, which chance she grasped. When her partner chief was sent to Sing Sing she became a famous actress and afterward married the manager who had given her the opportunity to prove herself.

The management of Ye Liberty is showing also two other films, winter scenes in the north of Sweden and "The Haunted House." Both are good pictures and between reels Jack La Claire sings baritone solos. Mr. La Claire is an added attraction which is being put on at Ye Liberty for this week and is well worth hearing. The bill is varied and most entertaining and will appeal to those who have enjoyed the heavier motion plays previously shown as well as to those who prefer the brighter and lighter side of life.

DR. McLAREN THROUGH WORK IN WAILUKU GYM

Dr. Ian McLaren, for the past two months physical director of the Alexander House Gym of Wailuku, Maui, was an arrival in Honolulu in the Mauna Kea this morning, having tendered his resignation to the board of directors of the gym last Wednesday.

In speaking of his reasons for leaving Maui, Dr. McLaren said: "There was no longer work enough to keep me busy, and I am not enough of a soldier to be content to sit around and draw my salary. It would not be just to the people who are maintaining the gymnasium. The weather is too warm for heavy forms of athletics, and I do not care to be simply a caretaker of the gym. It will be possible for the work that is being done to continue with simply a caretaker for the apparatus and the building. I feel that I have accomplished my mission here, and leave feeling that I have been of some real benefit in systematizing the work, which can now be carried on very well without an expert."

Dr. and Mrs. McLaren, who have spent a number of months in the islands on a leisurely tour of the world, expect to leave for the mainland early in October. They will cross the mainland through Canada and journey on to Paris, where they will be the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Crocker at a house party early next year.

Dr. McLaren plans taking a course in Sweden that will prove a valuable adjunct to his medical training in the handling of scientific gymnasium work, following which he anticipates settling in California and opening a gymnasium and sanatorium.

PHOENIX BAND SMOKER.

The recently organized band in connection with Honolulu Lodge, Modern Order of Phoenix, gave its initial concert last night at the Phoenix Hall under the direction of Leader Feierabend. The long and varied program was heartily appreciated and encores were numerous. Following is the program:

The Lion and the Mouse (selection)..... Theo. Bendix
Aloha (waltz)..... H. S. Spotsworth
Stars and Stripes Forever (march)..... Souza
Holy City (cornet solo by Mr. Teves)..... Stephen Adams
A Summer Dream (Marceau Characteristic)..... P. Hans Tiath
The Thundered (march)..... Souza
Finale—Aloha O.....

The Student—"Why are these beetles called 'Junebugs'?"
The Professor—"They are called 'Junebugs' because they always come in May."

A family of four was killed by blows from an axe in Chicago. No trace of the murderer has been found.

"ISLE OF SPICE" JUVENILES' NEXT BIG OFFERING

"The Isle of Spice," B. C. Whitney's greatest success, will be presented Monday evening at the Bijou theater by the Juvenile Bostonians.

With 20 great song hits, including "Goo Goo Man," "How Can You Tell Till You Try," "United States Marines," "You and I," "Little Jap From Nippon," "Silly Sailors," and "The Witches' Dance," gorgeous costumes, clever comedy and superb scenery and effects, the comic opera promises to be a record-breaking success.

Few comic operas produced in this country have enjoyed the success of "The Isle of Spice," which took Chicago by storm and made New York sit up and take notice. It is by far the greatest thing Whitney has ever done.

The Juvenile Bostonians have made a rattling success of the comic opera wherever they have played it. It gives all the favorites a fine opportunity to display their voices and abilities as actresses, and that they take advantage of the opportunity need hardly be added. Then Helen, the pretty prima donna with a glorious voice, appears in one of her most pleasing roles in this production, and nothing little Patsie Henry does is more pleasing than her part, which of course is one of comedy, and mighty fine comedy too.

"Billie" O'Neill, favorite with the Juvenile Bostonians, who will be seen to good advantage in next production.

Ina Mitchell, Lottie Clark, Doris Canfield, "Billie" O'Neill, Frances Crane and the other favorites have singing and dancing parts.

"The Isle of Spice" will be given Monday evening and continue through to Thursday evening when the regular change will be made. "La Mascotte," Audria's splendid comic opera in its revised shape, will be seen at a matinee this afternoon and this evening.

DR. FRY WILL TALK ON EQUAL SUFFRAGE HERE

At the Methodist church tomorrow night Supt. William Henry Fry, D. D., is going to preach on the subject, "The Relation of the Ball Box to the Ballot Box; or, When May the Women of Hawaii Vote?" Dr. Fry has recently come from a state where the women residents are voters and he will doubtless have something interesting to say on the subject.
